

Electrical, Automation & Process

Electrical, Automation & Process

Throughout the years we have built up a very good experience where we as of today handle assignments as project planning, design, construction, documentation and programming of electrical and automation equipment for the process industry.

In close cooperation with our partners we are also committed to do drawings, calculations, sizing, manufacture and install electrical control systems as well as process equipment.

Our ability to understand the interaction between electrical, automation and process is the key to bring you success!